· two main categories → DESCRIPTION (theoretical models) & SITUATIONS (real occurrencies)

Ⓐ DESCRIPTIONS (frame / models)

Expected Social Frame → model of the social situation (wedding, bar)

Ethical Rule → model of the MORAL / SOCIAL rule (don't steal, be professional)

Subversive Frame → tipical behaviour of the gang (egoism, crazyness)

~ Theoretical Mechanism → theory of the humor (incongruity / superiority)

· Humorous Frame → LA CLASSE ONBRELLO → blending together all the previous FRAMES

Ⓑ SITUATIONS

Social Occurrence → the event as it appears on the scene is Described By Expected Social Frame

Norm Occurrence → the moment one must apply a social norm

se l'Ethical Rule è DECORUM questo è Expectation of Silence described by the Ethical rule

Subversive Occurrence → the subversive Action of the characters VIOLATES Norm Occurrence

SATISFIES Subversive Frame

legame INDIVIDUO-CONCETTO

· Humorous Situation → the BLENDING with all the occurrencies

↳ is Described By Humorous Frame

Ⓒ ENTITIES

· Humor Entity

↳ Agent

↳ Target

· Humor Quality → what makes the blending possible

- facial expressions
- physical characteristics

Ⓓ PROPERTIES (object properties)

· is Described By → connecting S & D

↳ Social Occurrence $\xrightarrow{\text{is Described By}}$ Expected Social Frame

· is Classified By → connecting ENTITY & CONCEPT

· includes Situation → FONDAMENTAL for Humorous Frame

· has Quality → connecting to the AGENT

· violates → Subversive Occurrence to Norm Occurrence

· is Triggered By → Theoretical Mechanism to Subversion

SO, FRANK goes to the Funeral becomes

1. Expected Social Frame → manifesting in a Social Occurrence
2. Ethical Rule (decoro) → manifesting in the Norm Occurrence
3. Humor Qualities ACTIVATE the Subversive Frame
4. Humorous Situation = BLEND = when Frank with this qualities enters in the funeral

is Described By →	DOMAIN (subj) Humorous Situation	RANGE (obj) Humorous Frame is Classified By →	Subversive Action	Subversive Frame
satisfies →	Social Occurrence	Expected Social Frame